What is the Bachelor of Applied Science degree?

If you hold an Associate of Applied Science (AAS) degree from a regionally accredited community college, you can earn your Bachelor of Applied Science (BAS) degree by completing 60 semester hours of upper-division course work at ASU East. The East Campus is home to two highly respected anchor programs—the College of Technology and Applied Sciences and the Morrison School of Agribusiness and Resource Management.

Welcome to ASU East

Dear AAS graduate,

We believe you should also be an ASU graduate. You've already proven that you can succeed in the academic environment—your Associate of Applied Science degree shows that you have the intelligence, commitment and discipline to successfully complete your bachelor's degree.

On the strength of what you have already accomplished, ASU East will accept you into a Bachelor of Applied Science (BAS) degree program—without a course-by-course review. And earning your university degree from ASU East will help you move ahead in your career. It's simple. Just give us a call at (480) 727-1874. We look forward to talking with you.

Sincerely,

Dale Palmgren

Chair, Bachelor of Applied Science Advisory Committee
